Across The Pond is now available for syndication. Please contact me at john@jigtime.com for information about how your radio station can use this popular show at extremely competitive rates.

The Show is recorded weekly on a Wednesday night and files can be transferred the same evening to a secure server for download and broadcast. The show is recorded as a single file but can be edited into segments for local advertising. JigTime reserves the right to include one show sponsor on each broadcast to offset recording costs.
